A newspaper in Enterprise (The Daily Ledger) carried a front-page article and a very long editorial in its Sunday edition about the City of Elba charging them a license to deliver papers. According to the article the Elba police stopped two circulation men last Thursday and escorted them to the City Hall where they were shown the city ordinance and told to buy a delivery license to deliver their newspaper in Elba. The editorial on Page 6 of the paper was accompanied by a cartoon of one man shooting another. The man with the gun was labeled "The City of Elba," and the man being shot was labeled "Press Freedom."

The editorial indicated that the newspaper had contacted the Alabama Press Association, American Civil Liberties Union, and ABC News in New York (in hopes of getting nationwide coverage). They plan to fight all licenses that license newspapers as being unconstitutional.

The editorial also stated that the newspaper had received favorable support from both the people and elected officials of our county for this unit system. The editorial also stated that the newspaper had received favorable support from both the people and elected officials of our county for this unit system.

City Clerk Tom Dyess told a representative of "The Elba Clipper" that the ordinance was not enforced and the Enterprise newspaper would pay for the license for uniting their papers for an election, as well as the undermanned amount of time our citizens would have to wait for their papers.

Dyess pointed out that the license is not a direct expense for the subscribers or potential subscribers but for the truck that brings the papers to the Elba carrier.

The Association invited everyone to come and bring their own cattle, as there will be plenty of bays on hand to purchase all classes of cattle.

Crenshaw County District Attorney J. O. Bryan says substantial rewards will be offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the killers of four men found shot to death Friday in a tavern four miles south of Brantley.

Bryan said Monday that he was hopeful there would be an arrest in connection with the slayings at Glen's Place soon. He said investigators have been working around the clock from a command post set up at the scene of the crime. Police have said robbery was the apparent motive for the killings, as 35¢ was found in the bars cash register when officers arrived at the scene.

The four bodies were found lying side by side on the floor. Three of the men had been shot twice in the head with a small caliber pistol; the fourth had been shot once.

The victims have been identified as E. A. "Alex" Kennedy, 62, operator of the tavern; Roger Dale DeFreese, 23 of Lawrence, Joe Rhodes, 37, and Willie Taylor, about 43, both of Brantley.

BILLS TO REQUIRE UNIT SYSTEM

STATEMENT BY REP. DOUGLAS EASTER

Several months ago Judge James L. Sawyer and I publicized our support for a unit system for Coffee County. Subsequently we drafted a suggested bill for review and approval by the people. Copies of this proposed bill were furnished to our County officials for their review and suggestions. I have been elated over the reception this proposed change has brought about. Our county governing body has unanimously adopted a resolution substantially alike in intent and purpose to the proposed bill.

"Since Judge Sawyer and I have received such favorable support from both the people and elected officials of our county for this unit system, I am delighted that it is no longer necessary to impose a special election on the people. This fact alone will save nearly $8,000.00 a direct expense for an election, as well as the undermanned amount of time our citizens would have to wait for their papers."

I feel that this co-operative effort on the part of the County and State officials, as well as the general public, will result in outstanding improvement in the cost and efficiency of our county government and will bring about substantial improvement in the services rendered all our people in Coffee County and the cost thereof.

I have been assured that our Senator, The Honorable L. Dozier of Troy, is fully supporting this legislation. I certainly appreciate Senator Dozier's support and commend him for his unselfish and dedicated interest in Coffee County. With this support we will be able to pass this legislation and implement the unit system in accordance with the intent and time frame of the unit system.

hasn't changed the price of ashes.

But it has changed the price of your home.

For example, if you bought an $18,000 home in 1963—today it's worth about $24,000. Don't be left with a costly pile of ashes. See me about a State Farm Homeowners Policy that will cover your home for all it's worth... and keep it that way with automatic inflation coverage.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, wore an aisle-length gown of candlelight satin. The fitted bodice and princess line sleeves were accented with ruffled alencon lace, clusters of bridal pearls, and sugar beading. Appliques, pearls and beading covered the A-line skirt which fell into a chapel length train with matching lace. Her headpiece featured a bandeau of alencon lace covered with beading. The side veils fell into three lengths, touching the floor. She carried a bridal cascade of white roses, stephanotis, gladiolas and greenery.

Mrs. Wallace Clinton Push, Jr., of Auburn, Alabama served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Angela Whitehurst, Crestview, Miss Kathy King, Hartselle, Ala., Miss Linda Scott, Montgomery, Ala., Miss Judy Hester, Russellville, Ala., Miss Cathy Edmonds, Mobile, Ala., and Miss Gail Williamson, Atlanta, Ga. They wore floor-length gowns of avocado green organza over tulle featuring a ruffled scoop neckline and empire waistline with matching band of satin. Their headpieces were yellow lace bands intertwined with avocado ribbon and fingertip length side veils. Yellow roses and carnations, gypsophylla and greenery created their floral cascade bouquets.

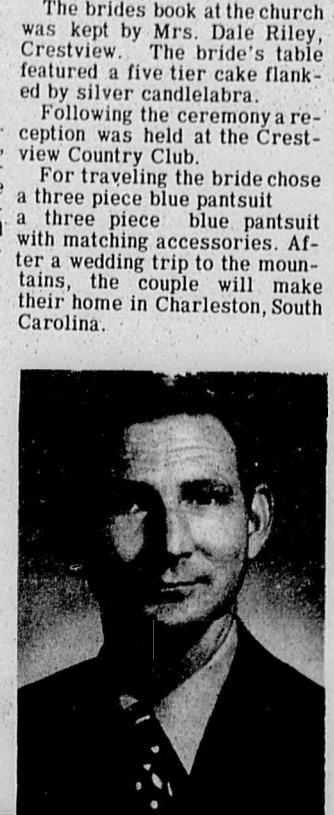

Best man was Al Chambliss brother of the groom, from Atlanta, Georgia. Ushers were Saby Chambliss, Moultrie, Ga. brother of the groom; Jay Bode and Wayne Thigpen, both of Atlanta; Ted Bode, Pensacola, Fla.; Tommy Main, Union Springs, Alabama; and Grant Collins, Nashville, Tennessee.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Jeter wore a pastel pink formal length gown and coat of silk worsted. The outfit featured bead work and matching solid silk combined in Mrs. Chambliss' floor length gown. She used matching accessories. Both mothers wore white rose corsages for the ceremony.

The brides book at the church was kept by Mrs. Dale Riley, Crestview. The bride's table featured a five tier cake flanked by silver candelabra.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Crestview Country Club.

For traveling the bride chose a three piece blue pantsuit with matching accessories. After a wedding trip to the mountains, the couple will make their home in Charleston, South Carolina.

The evening began with a 7:00 rehearsal for the bands which included a Red band, White Band and Blue Band. The Red Band was under the direction of Dr. William B. Revell of the University of Michigan and chairman of the Western Instrumental department for 36 years prior to his retirement in 1971. The white band was conducted by Dr. William T. Glover who is chairman of the Department of Music Education and conductor of the Pensacola Symphony Orchestra at the University of Southern Mississippi and also conductor of the Pensacola Symphony Orchestra. Dr. James S. Ferguson, who has served as director of bands at the University of Alabama since 1971, conducted the Blue Band in which Miss Alice Brunson was placed. Following the rehearsals we spent an enjoyable time bowling in nearby Albert City. Rehearsals began promptly at 8:00 Tuesday morning and continued through 10:00. Various meetings for band directors

DOTHAN, ALABAMA

BY TOM CASADAY, COUNTY EXTENSION CHAIRMAN

worked part of last week soliciting funds for the Coffee County Beef Calf Show which is to be held Tuesday, I always enjoy calling on the businessmen in Elba, Kinston, New Jackson and Enterprise. I am afraid that some of them get the feeling that the only time I go by to see them is when I am wanting something, but perhaps this is true.

The businessmen of the county are sponsoring the Coffee Calf Show this year as they have for a long number of years. We are appreciative of this cooperation. I know of no group of businessmen in any county who are as anxious to serve the needs of the county as much as those in Coffee County. Working with the businessmen is one of the great pleasures of serving as county agent.

EARLY FEED More folks are interested in getting some early feed this year than in any previous year I can remember. This is due to the high cost of feed.

I feel conflicting reports on what the weather is going to be in March. On the national television weather prediction they predict above normal temperatures for March. In one of the farm magazines and some of the newspapers, they predict below normal temperatures. In any event, though, some Coffee County farmers may want to plant a very early season hybrid corn such as McCurdy 67-14. I would not want too much of an early season variety but just enough to get by until another corn would be suitable for feeding as green-corn, silage or to be harvested.

There are several millets and sorghum-sudan crosses and other temporary grazing crops that can be planted. These should probably be planted earlier than we normally plant them, to get early grazing.

FREZZER BEEF Each year several people in Coffee County have us buy them a steer or half a steer at the District Beef Calf Show. Then we get either the packing plant in Enterprise or Elba to dress, out and freeze the meat for them. I believe a little money can be saved this way on beef. However, I am sure that the quality will be excellent. This excellent meat appeals to a lot of people.

Dan Presley and I have each bought a half a steer now for the last three years. We plan to do this again this year. If you are interested in this, contact Marvin Hegler at the Enterprise Packing Company or our office by Wednesday afternoon I talked to Ellis and he is interested in getting a good garden going as early as possible. We will bring the steers back especially tomatoes, beans and peas. Folks who grew up on the farm seldom hear these particular words of farming, and it brought back memories of my days on the farm when I was the Post Office in Enterprise. A few afternoons ago, I was walking from the Courthouse to the Post Office in Enterprise. "Come up," I looked to the right and I saw Albert Robert

Band Students Enjoy Trip To Tuscaloosa

On Monday morning March 12 Miss Alice Brunson, Miss Joyce Ziglar, Miss Melanie Carnley, Mr. Keith Bouett, and band director Mr. Tom Maddox left to attend the all state music festival in Tuscaloosa. Upon arrival in Tuscaloosa the group registered at Memorial Coliseum and during the remainder of the morning and early afternoon try-outs for all band personnel were held. After tryouts the afternoon was spent in free time.

The evening began with a 7:00 rehearsal for the bands which included a Red Band, White Band and Blue Band. The Red Band was under the direction of Dr. William D. Revell of the University of Michigan and chairman of the Woodwind Instrument department for 36 years prior to his retirement in 1971. The white band was conducted by Dr. William T. Glover who is chairman of the Department of Music Education and conductor of the Pensacola Symphony Orchestra at the University of Southern Mississippi and also conductor of the Pensacola Symphony Orchestra. Dr. James S. Ferguson, who has served as Director of bands at the University of Alabama since 1971, conducted the Blue Band in which Miss Alice Brunson was placed. Following the rehearsals we spent an enjoyable time bowling in nearby Albert City. Rehearsals began promptly at 8:00 Tuesday morning and continued through 10:00. Various meetings for band directors

Dr. McCrummen invited all the girls to visit Judson before making a final selection of the college of their choice. After his presentation on the value of an education, the closing ceremony was held. Nancy Taylor then entertained with her singing until the bell rang. The meeting was then adjourned.

BY TOM CASADAY, COUNTY EXTENSION CHAIRMAN

Worked part of last week soliciting funds for the Coffee County Beef Calf Show which is to be held Tuesday. I always enjoy calling on the businessmen in Elba, Kinross, New Br. and Enterprise. I am afraid that some of them feel the feeling that the only time I go by to see them is when I am waiting something, but perhaps this is true.

The businessmen of the county are sponsoring the Beef Calf Show this year as they have for a long number of years. We are appreciative of this fine cooperation. I know I get conflicting reports on what the weather is going to be in March. On the national television weather prediction, they predict above normal temperatures for March. In one of the farm magazines and some of the newspapers, they predict below normal temperatures. In any event, though, some Coffee County farmers may want to plant a very early season hybrid corn such as McCurdy 67-14. I would not plant too much of an early season variety but just enough to get by until another corn would be suitable for feeding as greenchop, silage or to be harvested.

There are several millets and sorghum-sudan crosses and other temporary grazing crops that can be planted. These should probably be planted earlier than we normally plant them, to get early grazing.

ESIC Released Winter Deans List

The winter quarter Dean's List at Enterprise State Junior College with names of 78 students who averaged B-plus or better was released recently by Dean of Instruction Joseph Talmadge.

Talmadge said that a student must be full-time (carry at least 12 quarter hours) and earn a grade point average of B-plus (3.50, 4.00 is all A's) to make the list.

5th Grade 4-H Girls Meet

Tuesday March 20, 1973, Mrs. Rainer's 5th grade 4-H girls had a meeting. Everyone was at the meeting including Mrs. Marlier and Mrs. Young. Today's study was first aid. We were given a first aid sheet. It had questions on it. The questions were about what to do if there was a bad injury or a simple injury. We all answered the questions. The name of the worksheet was Could You Save A Life? Our leaders showed us how to wrap a sprained ankle or wrist.

Alabama Exhibitors

Urged To Heed Horse Protection Act

The 1973 horse show season is rapidly approaching. And, as it comes, it is reminded from the U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) that the regulations of the Horse Protection Act must be met by those persons participating in or holding such events. This act was passed in 1970 and regulations became effective in February, 1972.

Dr. B. C. Swindle, representative for USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) in Alabama, said that the act specifically prohibits the practice of "soring" a horse to make it perform better. Exhibitors may not show a horse that has been sored; owners may not permit their horse to be shown if it has been sored, and show management may not permit sored horses to compete.

The act also prohibits transporting a sored horse across a state line with the intent of showing it, using foreign substances on the pastern area, setting a horse's boot at an illegal toe and heel ratio and using illegal boots. Dr. Swindle added:

Dr. Swindle noted that the veterinarians and inspectors who checked horses at Alabama horse shows, were men who had considerable background with horses and were familiar with the practices used to sore a horse, as well as methods used to cover up such things as blisters, cuts and inflamed tissue.

The Horse Protection Act provides for both civil and criminal penalties that can involve as many as three parties in each violation of anti-soring regulations. Willful violations carry penalties of up to $2,000 in fines or six months in prison, or both. Unintentional violations can bring up to $1,000 in fines.

"However," Dr. Swindle pointed out, "the act does not authorize APHIS officials to remove a sored horse from competition, halt the class in which it is being shown or have persons arrested who are suspected of transporting or exhibiting a sored horse."

Under the regulations of the Horse Protection Act, it is the responsibility of the show management to keep sored horses from competing in the show ring or to disqualify the winner of a class if investigation shows it to be a sored horse.
